JOSEPH V. HUNLEY with HO train he bought in Antioch News auction.

Two Win News Auction; Ladies Suit This Week

The two winners of last week's Antioch News mail auction have a head-start on their Christmas shopping. Joseph V. Hunley, Rt. 2, Antioch, won the right to purchase the HO train set for his low bid of $11.84. Retail value of the set, purchased from Card's Cycle & Hobby Shop, was $29.90.

Second winner in the auction was Preston Reckers, Antioch, who purchased his set from the News for $18.01. Not quite as low as Mr. Hunley's bid, but still a nice bargain.

Something for the Girls

Next week's auction will give a boost to the ladies' wardrobe. The Antioch News is auctioning a ladies' 100% virgin wool, Pendleton two-piece suit, purchased from the Gibbs & Jensen store, with a retail value of $35.00.

The person turning in the high bid in the auction will have the selection of a suit in the size, color and style of her choice. Should she (or he, if the winner should be a Christmas-shopping man) fail to find a suit that pleases in the Pendleton suits, they may select one of equal price from any of Gibbs & Jensen's large and varied stock.

The Pendleton suits come in sizes 8 through 18. There are solids and plaids of various colors. All are two-piece suits, in a variety of styles—various length jackets, colored and collarless and several skirt styles.

So, ladies, brighten up your holiday wardrobe with a beautiful suit at the price you select. And, men, here's a chance for a Christmas gift she'll really appreciate. How low can you bid and still go at least one cent over the other bidders? That's the problem.

Rules of the contest will be found in an ad on another page of this paper.

Vets Honor War Dead Sunday

Antioch Legion Post 748 remembered their former buddies when they gathered at Hillside cemetery Sunday morning to pay respects to the dead.

The men gathered in a prayer and the firing squad fired a salute.

Among those who represented Post 748 were Commander John Volk, Chaplain J. Swenson and Sergeant-at-arms Don Gaston.

Good Attendance At Self-Help Course

The Medical Self-help course, conducted by the Civil Defense officials, had an enrollment of 26 persons at the first meeting Tuesday night at the High School.

Mrs. Maca Watson is the instructor of the course at Antioch. The course includes twelve lessons.

It is the hope of Civil Defense officials that one member from each family will eventually take this course. It is unlike the regular Red Cross first aid course in that that course instructs laymen in what to do until a doctor can arrive. The self-help course assumes that no doctor may be available for some time and is designed to aid in the event of nuclear attack. Enrollment in the course is limited to 30 persons to a class.

Frank Attends Agent Course

LeRoy J. Frank, representative of Nationwide Insurance in Antioch, is one of 42 agents attending the training program being conducted by his Companies at the Holiday Inn, Columbus, Ohio.

Leo Frank has qualified to attend this program, which is designed to help him render better service to his policyholders.

This program, one of a series of training courses held periodically by the Companies, began on Nov. 5 and will continue through Nov. 18.

D. Keeler New Page In Illinois House

Dennis Keeler, Indian Point, will be one of the new pages in the House of Representatives in Springfield when that body goes into the special session recently called by Governor Kerner.

Dennis, 21-year-old son of Mrs. Jane Keeler, received his appointment to the post through Representative William Murphy. He will become a regular page when the January session begins.

New State Representative John Conolly also left for Springfield to attend the special session. Though he will not take office until January, he will attend this session as a spectator.

New Officials Back to Study

Panelists have been assigned for the Schools of Instruction to be held in Springfield, Illinois, Thursday, Nov. 15 for newly elected County Clerks and County Treasurers. Arrangements and plans are being made by the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois with the cooperation of the Commission to Study County Problems, County Clerks' Association, County Treasurers' Association, Illinois Department of Revenue and the Illinois County and Township Officials.

Believing that many newly elected officials have questions relative to the duties and procedures of their offices, which they would like to have answered before taking office in December, the Federation has called these schools. And who could be better "professors" than those officials who have had experience and practice in the duties of such offices?

If these meetings are well received, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois will plan to extend the idea to the offices of other elected officials. Both the taxing body and the taxpayer benefit from uniformity in the interpretation of statutory duties of officials and in an orderly transition when a newly elected official takes office, goals long sought by the Federation and others interested in efficient government.

Driver's License of Local Man Revoked

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter has announced the revocation of the driver's license of James L. Taylor, Jr., Rt. 3, Box 655, Antioch, on the charge of driving while intoxicated.

Decision on Last Resort Reached

The State Liquor Board reached a decision Tuesday in its review of the action of the County Liquor Board in revoking the license of the Last Resort. Their decision would be announced Thursday, said Howard Cartwright, acting chairman of the Board in line with their policy of first notifying defendants of the decision.

The County Liquor Board first revoked the license of the Last Resort on the charge of selling liquor to minors and of obstructing the Board's investigation of the complaint.

The Last Resort promptly appealed the case to the State Liquor Board and remained open on an injunction pending the outcome of their appeal.

Within a matter of days, a second charge of selling liquor to minors was lodged against the tavern, when two teen-age girls were involved in an accident and said they had bought drinks at the Last Resort.

The County Liquor Board again revoked the license of the tavern, it again appealed to the State Liquor Board, and remained open.

It is several months since the license of the tavern was first revoked. The State Liquor Board reviewed the case on October 17, and adjourned to consider the evidence. The 650 pages of testimony in the case were carefully considered by the board, said Mr. Cartwright, and the testimony of all witnesses, including that of residents of the area who lodged complaints.

Thief Caught Before Loot Is Missed

Two typewriters stolen from the Antioch High School were located by Libertyville police and the FBI before they were missed by school authorities.

The typewriters were evidently taken from the school after the class play last Friday night. It was presumed that the accused, John A. Seybold, entered the building with playgoers and remained until the building was cleared. He then forced open the door of the classroom and took the machines.

It is suspected that Seybold may be the man who took a typewriter and movie projector from the high school shortly after school opened in September. The same method was used—at that time, even to breaking open the same door into the room. This time, however, he did more damage to the door.

The FBI informed school authorities that the machines would be returned Wednesday. Seybold is wanted for jumping three $50,000 bonds on charges of burglary and safe-cracking.

There have been several school robberies in which methods similar to the one employed by Seybold were used. Authorities are investigating the possibility that he may have committed these thefts also. Warren Polley, assistant principal of Antioch High School, said he was told by the insurance company, that they had several school robbery cases on Chicago's south side in which the same methods were used.

Driver's License Revoked By Sec.

James E. O'Neil, Rt. 3, Box 379, Antioch, has had his driver's license revoked for driving while intoxicated, according to an announcement from the office of Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter.

Deadline Next Week: Friday

The Antioch News will be printed on Monday, November 19, next week. If you receive your paper by mail, you will probably receive it Tuesday in the Antioch area.

Because of the early printing date, news, ads and announcements must be in to The Antioch News office on Friday, November 16.

The change of printing days is for the Thanksgiving week only.

ATHS Students To Tape Video Show Saturday

The five Antioch High School students selected to compete on the quiz show, "It's Academic," will go to Chicago on Saturday, Nov. 17, to tape the show. The date of the showing of the quiz on which the Antioch students will compete is not yet known.

The show, a general knowledge quiz, is on WNBQ, Channel 5, every Saturday night at 6 p.m. Several schools of the twelve scheduled to compete in the series have already appeared.

The five Antioch students who were selected were chosen from twelve candidates. They are Janet Polley, Rick Prossie, John Hallway, Solvieg Nelson and Carol Lasco. They will be accompanied by their faculty advisers, Lawrence Eggleston, James Corrigan and Kenneth Smouse.

A busload of about forty students will travel to Chicago to cheer the Antioch team on. Should they win in this first quiz, they will compete in the finals. The prize is improvements for the school library.

Loses Gun At Turkey Shoot Sun.

If you attended the turkey shoot held by the Northern Illinois Conservation Club on Rte. 21 south of Antioch last Sunday, have you taken a close look at your gun since?

If you haven't, please check to see if the gun you have is yours.

Jim Fields of Antioch has discovered he has someone else's gun. His gun is a 12 gauge Browning Automatic with raised rib. The gun he has is also a 12 gauge Browning Automatic with a raised rib, but is a lighter weight.

No guns were left at the site, so obviously, someone has Mr. Fields' gun.

Jim hopes that whoever has the gun is not a once-a-year shooter or it may be some time before he discovers he has the wrong gun.

If you discover you have Jim's gun, call him at 395-3232 in Antioch and arrangements for a swap can be made.

Career Night At Grant High

The Grant High School Guidance Services Department is making plans for its Second Annual Career Night which will be held December 6. Sometime prior to that date Mr. Walter E. Parker, Superintendent of the Illinois State Employment Service, will be in the school for students.

Career Night will feature leaders from various career fields. Their speeches, demonstrations and advice should be of great help to students in planning for the future.

Concert This Saturday At High School

The Antioch High School Fine Arts Department will present its second program of the season this Saturday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The Concert Band under the direction of Mr. Joseph T. Rush will be making its fourth public appearance of the 1962-63 school year. Prior to this concert the band performed at the Fall Fine Arts Festival in September and during the later part of September and October put on three half time shows for the football season.

The music to be performed at this fall concert should provide listening for everyone's taste. If you like show tunes, be sure to come and hear the band do selections from the Sound of Music, and if you enjoy the more serious works there will be Elsa's "Procession to the Cathedral" by Wagner, or the Overture to the opera "Pique Dame" by Von Suppe.

Two outstanding features of the concert will be the trumpet solo, "The Magic Trumpet," featuring Frank Ehrhardt as soloist and the Nocturne from a Midsummer Night's Dream by Mendelssohn, which will feature the french horn section, made up of S. Cremin, G. Bruhn, K. Rhoades, C. Jarvis and L. Eckert.

At the end of the formal concert, for those who like to dance to the sound of the "Big Band," the "Royal Tones," the Antioch High School Dance Band will give an hour's dance in the Boys' gym.

The down beat will be at 8 p.m. sharp this Saturday night, and will begin an hour of good entertainment for all those who attend.

Tickets may be bought at the door beginning at 7:30.

Fire Dept. Called To Grass Fire

The Antioch Fire Department was called out Saturday to extinguish a large slough fire at Broadway and Drexel Boulevards, east of the Grass Lake Food Mart.

The department also assisted at the fire at the house of Ronnie Vos on Trevor Road in the early morning hours Tuesday.

Governor Proclaims Nursing Home Day

Governor Kerner has proclaimed November 25, 1962, as Nursing Home Day in Illinois.

A copy of the proclamation was received last week by Mrs. Elizabeth Betero, administrator of the Hampstead House Nursing Home in Fox Lake Hills.

Governor Kerner points out in his proclamation the importance of visitation with our older citizens in nursing homes by people outside the home.

Dedication of H.S. Slated For Sunday

Tour of Buildings After Ceremonies

The addition to the Antioch High School will be dedicated this Sunday, November 18, in ceremonies that will start at 3 p.m.

The High School Junior Band will open the ceremonies, followed by the Presentation of the Colors by the Color Guard of the G.A.A., and the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag. The High School Junior Band will play the National Anthem. The invocation will be given by the Rev. Fr. Alfred Henderson of St. Peter's Catholic Church.

The High School Senior Choir will then sing the World Hymn.

Guest speakers of the afternoon will be introduced by Ruth Seyfarth, member of the Board of Education. They will include Arthur W. Lundahl, who will make the presentation of the building; Robert Denman, president of the Board of Education, who will accept for the school; W. C. Petty, County Superintendent of Schools, and Albert L. Dittman, principal of Antioch High School.

The High School Senior Choir will return to present, "Hear My Prayer, O Lord." The closing benediction will be given by the Rev. L. H. Messersmith of the Millburn Congregational Church.

Student Council members will then conduct guests on a tour of the building, followed by a social hour in the cafeteria.

In addition to the new portion of the High School building, extensive remodeling was done on portions of the older building.

The addition includes a new cafeteria and library. Work on the building was not completed, as expected, when school started this fall. Work was slowed by two strikes of Lake County unions.

Diversion of Motor Tax Under Fire

Springfield, Nov. 7—Diversion of motor fuel tax funds for non-highway purposes would deprive motorists of the good roads for which they are paying and such diversion must be avoided, the Illinois Highway Funds Protection Committee declared today.

The committee pointed out that the motor fuel tax is a special benefit tax. In other words, highway users in addition to paying all other taxes pay an extra tax on motor fuel for the privilege of driving on the highways, roads, and streets. This tax then is paid by the motorist for the special benefit he receives in the form of roads and highways on which to drive. The funds he pays for this special benefit therefore should be used for that purpose and that purpose alone.

These statements by the Highway Funds Protection Committee were made in the face of proposals which may be presented at the November Special Session of the Illinois General Assembly to transfer motor fuel tax funds to the General Revenue Fund.

St. Peter's Fall Festival Next Sunday

The Rev. Alfred J. Henderson and the Rev. Lawrence Hanley, together with members of the Holy Name Society and the Altar and Rosary Society, are completing plans for the annual turkey dinner and fall festival to be held at St. Peter's Church on Sunday, Nov. 18.

The dinner, family style, will be served in the church hall from 12 noon to 6 p.m. Mrs. Joseph De Stefano will be in charge.

The festival will be in the new addition, from 12 noon to 9 p.m., and James Leksich will be in charge. A white elephant booth, a handicraft booth and games will be featured.

The proceeds of the day will go toward the new social center and class rooms that were dedicated in September.

MEETING TO DISCUSS preparations for the Thanksgiving dinner and festival to be held Sunday, November 18 at St. Peter's Church were Henry Apostol, George Vistain, Father Henderson, Harriett Runyard, Kathryn Wells, Father Hanley, Clara Merryman, Jim Leksich, Helen Vogler and Mary DeStefano.

EDITORIAL

Why The High Gas Tax?

Governor Keiner's proposal to borrow money from the motor fuel tax fund to relieve the shortage in other departments is reminiscent of the housewife who uses the "envelope" method of budgeting.

With this system, she starts the month with several envelopes neatly marked for rent, food, etc., and a definite plan to put so much money in each envelope on pay day, and use it only for the purpose for which it is intended. As the period-between-paydays wears on, one envelope, perhaps the food envelope, runs out of money, so she borrows from "rent". Then she borrows from "dentist" to re-imburse "rent", and before pay-day, all the envelopes are empty and she's faced with the family version of the government's deficit spending — living beyond your means. If, however, she consistently ended the pay period with a fat surplus in one of the envelopes, she'd soon reduce the amount she put in that particular envelope.

It doesn't look as though the Governor's going to be allowed the housewife's solution of shifting funds from one envelope to another. But we, and probably a million other taxpayers, would like to know why we have to keep putting our hard-earned cash in that already overstuffed envelope.

The tax on motor fuel is exorbitantly high. A cut in that tax would benefit practically every worker in the state.

The determined opposition with which the governor's proposal has been met suggests that a good many groups have their over-eager hands stretched out to reach in that rich slush fund.

We'd like to nominate for the next governor any man who can persuade our lawmakers to forget their dreams of pouring this surplus into graft-lined billion-dollar highways, and return some of it to the taxpayer in the form of a reduction in the gas tax. This may not help the governor solve the state's financial problems, but it'll help solve ours.

Your Governor Reports

by OTTO KERNER

The current special session of the General Assembly has been asked to extend its original authority of appropriation to carry the public aid program of Illinois through the two-year fiscal period ending June 30, 1963.

The special session was called because that extension of authority is needed now. Inaction would mean thousands of public aid recipients would be guaranteed the necessities of life for a period of many weeks if they waited for the newly elected 73rd General Assembly to convene in January and act.

In conjunction with my request for further authority to finance the public aid program, I have asked the General Assembly to transfer money from special accounts to help meet the forthcoming public aid bills.

The monies in these accounts are normally used for special purposes, but now is the time when they should be used to help in a major effort. This is true because the accounts have more than sufficient monies to meet their particular obligations.

For this reason, I have asked that the Legislature transfer $15 million from the Motor Fuel Tax Fund; $14 million from the Service Recognition Bond Fund; and $4 million derived from the so-called escheat legislation now in the accounts of the State Treasurer.

In addition, by executive

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DUKIN

There is a well-known truism in the sports world that says "You can't win ball games without the horses," and this applies as well to politics as the Democratic Party in Lake County found out last week.

"Coach" Bill Hartnett, the Democratic Central Committee Chairman, and his assistant coaches conducted an aggressive, well-financed campaign, but they didn't have the material to beat the entrenched Republicans.

This, of course, has long been the main difficulty confronting the Democrats in their biennial effort to wrest at least one county office from the GOP.

The ambitious person who looks forward to a political career in Lake County is going to join the winners, regardless of his deep-in-the-heart political beliefs, and thus Republicans have a steady flow of material ready to replace the graduating lettermen who step up to different jobs or retire from the political arena.

The Democrats are developing some candidates on their farm clubs, however, the farm clubs being the municipalities which have elected Democrats on non-partisan tickets without suffering any great embarrassment.

The Demos had three police magistrates and a former mayor plus an assistant supervisor from Waukegan township on their roster last week which certainly indicates that there are Democrats in Lake County who might be persuaded to vote that way in the county election some time if solid material can be developed on the farm clubs.

Despite widespread splitting of ballots there was no appreciable difference between the votes garnered by the top of the ballot and the county office candidates, a condition that did not hold true two years ago when Gov. Otto Kerner carried Lake County and Sen. Paul Douglas pulled a heavy vote in this area.

An anticipated battle over the county general fund levy adopted at last Friday's county board meeting, failed to materialize apparently because the opposition got their signals crossed.

A levy of $797,470 for general county purposes was expected to draw fire from a small bloc of supervisors who have been insisting that the levy should be eliminated and replaced with some income earned by the county tax collector.

Most of the profit is now being set aside for construction of the new county building which is slated to get underway next spring.

Deerfield Assistant Supervisor Frank Peers has been particularly vocal in opposing the corporate fund levy, but aside from a negative vote Friday he remained silent.

Supervisor Peers' vote was matched by those of fellow townsman Samuel Smith and Waukegan Assistant John Balen, but Deerfield Supervisor Emmett Moroney confounded the board members by going along with the majority.

A big step toward adoption of a new county zoning ordinance was taken by the board when a "moratorium" on new order, I will direct transfer of $4 million from the Agricultural Premium Fund. For that matter, this money would become available automatically for general purpose obligations such as public aid at the end of this fiscal period.

Not one of the funds from which money would be transferred will suffer as a result. In the case of the Motor Fuel Tax Fund, no disruption will occur in any city, township, county or state road program. Projections show that minimum amounts of surplus balances after obligations have been set as of September 1963, for example, would be more than $13 million in the Municipalities fund; almost $6 million in the Counties Fund, and more than $8.5 million in the Township and Road District Fund. I have asked for the transfer of such funds because I believe the people of this state want money on hand to be used for problems at hand.

re-zoning petitions was approved.

This means that public hearings can be held on the proposed ordinance without myriad changes being made before it is even adopted.

The zoning freeze is expected to last about six months as a result of the hearings in each township.

The election of Karl Berning, of Deerfield, as County Treasurer last week breaks a continuity in that office which extends beyond the memory of man.

Since the treasurer cannot succeed himself he has usually groomed a deputy to replace him and alternate terms with him, but Berning comes into the office a stranger.

He won't take office until Dec. 3, but already there is speculation about his choice of a chief deputy to be groomed as his successor four years from now.

And if you think politics will take a holiday for a while now that the general election of 1962 is history, consider that there are township elections, municipal elections, and balloting for Circuit Judge in the offing in the next few months.

Dear Sir:

Four years ago the citizens of Lake County voted to establish a Forest Preserve District. In this four year period, just three parcels of land have been acquired. One of these is only 35 acres. The need for additional purchases is urgent. Land values are rising throughout the county as the countryside is being built up.

If your influential paper would participate in a campaign to reawaken interest, it would be of great help in arousing the Commissioners and making them realize their duty.

I hope you will be willing to write a few editorials on this subject. I understand the Commissioners are meeting on December 18th, so prompt action is indicated.

With many thanks for your cooperation, I am

Very truly yours,

Editor's Note—If you read Lou Durkin's Courthouse Notebook in our issue of Nov. 8, you'll find he also has some very interesting comments on the subject.

Editor's Note—Although the following is not exactly a letter to the editor, it is included in this column because its contents are similar to other letters we have received recently on the same subject, i.e., a protest against recent discussion of the County Board as to appointment of an Advisory Committee for the Forest Preserve District.

The letter is evidently a copy of a letter sent to Garfield Leaf, Secretary of the Board of Commissioners of the Lake County Forest Preserve District.

Dear Mr. Leaf:
The Ravinia Garden Club wishes to register its disappointment in and objection to action taken by the Board of Commissioners at its last three meetings in instituting a policy of politically sponsored appointments to the Citizens Advisory Committee to the Forest Preserve District.

The Ravinia Garden Club concurs with the observation in the Citizens Advisory Committee's recent report:

"The Advisory Committee which is historically the 'watch dog' of the Forest Preserve District, must necessarily be politically independent of the Board of Commissioners. The moment the Advisory Committee owes its nomination to political favor, it loses its reason for being, and the public, quite rightly, loses confidence in it."

The suggestion, as published in the press, that the Board of Commissioners, in exchange for getting rid of the politically-free Advisory Committee, will finally proceed to purchase land, is shocking in its implications. The Ravinia Garden Club requests that the Board of Commissioners promptly reconsider its policy of making politically sponsored appointments to the Advisory Committee.

Sincerely yours,
Marjorie L. Jordan

Along The Way

with Annie Mae

The holiday that has become an American tradition is just a prayer away. Times have changed the format of the day since our forefathers celebrated the harvesting of crops planted and nurtured despite many hazards. Today's Thanksgiving dinner will more likely be eaten in a restaurant and digested while watching a football game on T.V. Although the gathering in of the sheaves is comparatively easier in this mechanized age, the reasons for Thanksgiving are just as pertinent. Next Thursday each American will, in spite of his frivolous manner, be every bit as serious about his reasons for giving thanks as were the Pilgrims of long ago.

Marie Bushing Studies Maps

Marie Bushing, daughter of Mrs. Marie G. Bushing, R. R. 4, Box 287, Antioch, has recently been employed by the United States Air Force Aeronautical Chart and Information Center. She is enrolled in the Cartograph Training Program being conducted at AIC's training school in St. Louis, Mo.

This six month Civil Service Commission approved course provides a broad background in chart compilation and related fields. Subjects covered in the curriculum include Geodesy (exact measurement of the earth), Astronomy, Physical Geography and Photogrammetry (making charts from photographs).

When Marie completes the course, she will be assigned to the Production and Distribution Plant of AIC located in St. Louis, Mo., at the historic site of the St. Louis Arsenal on Second and Arsenal Streets.

Its mission is basically the production of aeronautical charts, graphic air target materials, flight information publications, maps, terrain models, evaluated intelligence on air facilities and related cartographic devices for the United States Air Force and other Department of Defense agencies.

P.T.A. Gives Extra Points For Dads

The Antioch Grade School P.T.A. will meet on Monday evening, Nov. 10, at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Preston J. Reckers, Jr., president, will conduct a short business meeting. Room count will be taken as usual except that all fathers present will be given two points instead of one. All parents are urged to attend and visit their children's teachers and rooms.

Hostesses for the evening will be sixth grade room mothers Mesdames C. Miller, R. Radke, J. Kopriva and J. Mikosh.

WURZBURG, Germany (AHTN)—Army Pfc Kenneth W. Andersen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Andersen, 601 N. Main St., Antioch, recently participated with other personnel from the 3rd Infantry Division's 41st Artillery in Exercise MARNE ROCK, a two-week field training exercise conducted in Southern Germany.

The exercise was designed to maintain the individual soldier's over-all combat readiness and effectiveness, placed on small unit tactics.

Andersen, a jeep driver in the artillery's headquarters Battery in Germany, entered the Army in September 1961 and received basic training at Fort Knox, Ky. He arrived overseas last March.

The 23-year-old soldier was graduated from Antioch High School in 1957 and was employed by the Public Service Company, Mount Prospect, before entering the Army.

Gas makes it easy to heat any extra room economically

Choose from any of these five modern gas room heaters for the fast, dependable heat you need in that extra room. All are handsome and compact . . . require no chimney . . . use no room oxygen (air is drawn in from outdoors into sealed combustion chamber). Ideal for attic area, breezeway, closed-in porch or garage. All operate with typical gas economy.

1. Suburban Novent installs in window or wall. Completely automatic with built-in forced warm air circulation system.
2. Stewart-Warner Saf-Aire can be recessed in either masonry or frame walls. Operates as a self-contained unit . . . will not affect any other heaters.

3. Peerless Uni-Matic can be used on any outside wall. Can be located beneath most windows to provide free arrangement of furniture.

4. Chill Chaser by Thermal Specialties is a hot water room heater with compact built-in pump. Ideal for any hard-to-heat area—requires no vent.

5. Temco is ideal for heating large areas. Unit rests on floor and fastens to wall with two screws. Also may be used for summer ventilation.

For the right gas room heater for your needs, see your local heating contractor or stop at your Northern Illinois Gas Company store.

THE LAW

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF
ILLINOIS STATE BAR ASSOCIATION
IN COOPERATION WITH THE NEWSPAPER

OIL AND GAS LAW

For over 50 years Illinois has been an oil producing state. In recent years, improved methods of production and an increased knowledge of geological structures have broadened the productive areas until a large part of the state has oil potentialities.

Landowner's Rights
Title to real estate includes ownership to all the minerals in and under the land. But since oil and gas, like underground water, are capable of migrating from place to place, "ownership" consists of the right to capture, reduce to possession, and sell or dispose of them.

Because the cost of exploring and producing oil and gas is so great, the landowner often leases his rights to explore for the minerals in exchange for an agreement on the part of the producer to pay him a certain royalty (usually one-eighth) of all oil and gas produced, free of exploration and production costs.

The right to explore and produce is usually granted to the producer for a definite period of years (called the "primary term") and also for as long thereafter as oil or gas is produced. The lease may also require that a well must be drilled within a certain time, or that the drilling of the first well may be postponed only upon the payment of certain annual cash rentals, called "delay rentals."

Oil and gas leases usually contain provisions to protect the landowner's use of the surface of the land, and to compensate him for any injury to the surface caused by the producer's drilling operations.

Producers and Partners

All those who obtain interests in an oil and gas lease and participate in the operations conducted on said lease are generally considered by law to be members of a mining partnership. Most of the usual rules of a partnership apply, so that each partner is personally liable for the debts of the venture, even though he has already paid his full share to the partner actually operating and managing the well or lease. The landowner who receives royalty payments is not considered a partner.

The sale or assignment of any portion of an oil and gas lease may have to be reported to the Secretary of State, and if a necessary report is not filed, the buyer, if he acts within the time prescribed by law, may be able to set the sale aside and have his money refunded. If the buyer resides in another state it may also be necessary to comply with the security laws of his state, and in some instances the regulations of the Federal Securities Exchange Commission may be involved.

Generally the Illinois Department of Mines and Minerals has supervisory power over the drilling and spacing of wells, and the restoration of the ground when the well is closed.

There are many income tax benefits available to participants in oil and gas lease ventures. Very generally, only 72½% of oil royalties are taxable to the landowner, and the producer may qualify for deductions for the costs of drilling.

This column is written to inform and not to advise. No person should apply or interpret any law without consulting his attorney. Even a slight difference in the facts may change the result under the law.

THE HAND ON THE SCALE

The most discussed domestic problem of the moment can be expressed in a simple phrase: What's holding back the American economy?

Senator Goldwater recently discussed the question. He listed the various obstacles to progress that are commonly cited. Then he wrote: "... most of these obstacles stem directly from government meddling with the natural laws of economic freedom. The hand of government in the market place is like the hand of a dishonest butcher on the meat scales. It upsets the balance between supply and demand, which is the essence of brisk commerce."

Then, later on, the Senator said this about centralized paternalistic government: "... more than anything else, it denies freedom—freedom of action and freedom of choice—to the individual American... It hampers, frustrates and denies the maximum use of individual initiative, industry, incentive and inventiveness. And, in so doing, government interference is drying up the wellsprings of a nation's greatness."

History—which is concerned only with fact, and with which no one can successfully argue—is on the Senator's side. We need not look far for the primary block to a vibrant, driving economy. The address is Washington, District of Columbia.

"One Big Trouble with the American public these days is that they have come to believe that it is easier to vote for something they want than to work for it."—Okabena, Minn., Press.

The boys would stay down on the farm if the prices would not.

Since it takes time and distance to stop, a motorist always should maintain a safe distance between his car and the one ahead, says the Chicago Motor Club. During a spring rainstorm a motorist not keeping this safe distance may find it impossible to match a sudden stop made by the driver ahead.

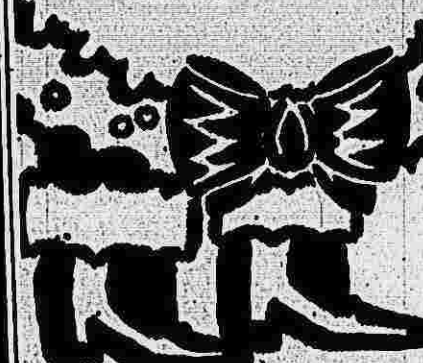

By 1970 the demand for chemists will be up 72% over 1959. Then, the industry will need 163,000 trained technicians.

Loaded Cannon

"A Civil War Cannon that stands in the Rhode Island capitol in Providence has finally been disarmed, 99 years after it was loaded. Two and a half pounds of black powder were found in it. Naval ordnance experts say it was a miracle some cigar-smoking legislator had not set it off and collapsed the capitol rotunda as a result. Or even a hard jarring could have done the job, they said. Let's give thanks that the cannon has at last been rendered harmless. And let's grasp the incident as a sign that perhaps the Civil War is finally ending." —Norwalk Conn., The Norwalk Hour.

Heart News Beat

It's common knowledge today that there is a relationship between obesity and heart disease. Heart Associations and local Heart Councils have advised the public for several years that weight-watching, although not a surefire guarantee against heart trouble, is excellent practice for one's general health as well as for the heart's protection.

One of the annoyances that go with overweight is frequent difficulty in breathing. The fatter the individual, the more difficult a job breathing is likely to become.

Why? This is a question that has interested the Heart Association for a long time, both in the interest of discovering how best to treat breathing problems, and to gain new knowledge about the processes through which breathing is controlled.

In Heart Association-sponsored research a theory has been developed to explain the breathing difficulties of the very obese. It is this:

The chest wall is much heavier in the fat than in those of normal weight. This means that breathing demand great effort. A man weighing 400 pounds, for instance, may have trouble catching his breath if he does nothing more strenuous than turn over in bed.

But although this extra effort is needed, it isn't made. It is believed that the very fat "protect" themselves against it through some mechanism of the nervous system. This results in the characteristically shallow and irregular breathing of the obese.

This, in turn, brings uneven distribution of blood and air into the capillaries and air sacs of the lungs. Some of these air spaces may collapse and stop working. All this leads to incomplete oxygenation of blood circulating through the lungs.

Insufficient oxygen in the blood means that such vital organs as the heart and brain do not get as much oxygen as they need to function properly. One complication of this is heart failure. In late stages, the blood's carbon dioxide level rises as the oxygen keeps falling.

It has been found that a few deep breaths, made with a conscious effort, will restore an obese person's blood oxygen to normal levels and correct his breathing difficulties—but a relapse usually comes soon.

The formula for success is to think of a product that costs a dime and sells for a dollar and is habit-forming. The, News-Leader, Arcadia, Wis.

For respiratory problems of the obese a new treatment is a drug just recently released for general medical use. It stimulates respiration and may be useful in other conditions where breathing is depressed, such as barbiturate poisoning and breathing trouble after anaesthesia.

As for the obese person, the most effective treatment is to lose weight. After reduction, breathing difficulties tend to disappear.

One knows his children are growing up when the daughters begin wearing lipstick and the sons start wiping it off.

URBANA—Quality in rug and carpets depends on the construction and the quality and fiber of the yarn, says a University of Illinois home economist.

K. Virginia Seidel, extension home furnishings specialist, explains that the density or closeness of the pile is the best single guide to durability in carpets. Pile height is less important than density as a clue to durability, although a deep pile may give a luxurious appearance. High pile on closely woven carpet, however, indicates excellent quality. If the pile is high but the tufts are far apart, you will walk on the side rather than the end of the pile, and this practice decreases service life of the carpet.

Whether a rug has loop or cut pile does not affect its durability. The type of pile is more a matter of preference and appearance than a matter of life expectation. Another feature to check is the backing. Regardless of the construction process, the backing should be strong, firm and closely woven. A mesh-like or solid-woven material may be attached to the backing to prevent stretching. Latex coatings on backings anchor yarns and give body to carpet.

The average person cannot easily judge the quality of carpet fiber. The best safeguard is to buy from reliable dealers who handle merchandise from reputable manufacturers. Fibers determine such qualities as soil-resistance, durability, cleanability, color-fastness, resistance to fuzzing, resistance to combustion and insect infestation. Here is a guide to some of the properties of the fibers commonly used in carpets and rugs:

The acrylics (Acrila, Orlon, Creslan and Zefran) are moderately strong and have good resilience (ability to spring back after being crushed). Water-borne stains are easily removed, but not oily stains. These fibers burn from a spark. The modacrylic (Verel) is similar to the acrylics but is more heat sensitive and not so flammable.

Acetate has low abrasion resistance, moderate resilience and good resistance to soil. Often called a party fiber, acetate is not recommended for heavy traffic.

Cotton wears moderately well and soils quickly. The pile crushes but can be raised with vacuum cleaner. Nylon is long wearing if well constructed of fiber designed for carpet. It is moderately crush-resistant and spot resistant to water-borne stains. Oily stains are difficult to remove, and it melts from a spark. It does not, however, usually attract insects. Filament yarns are more resistant to piling, shedding and crushing and tend to show soil less than staple yarns.

Olefin (polypropylene) is one of the new fibers. It offers promise because it has a price advantage and is almost equal to nylon in abrasion-resistance. It resists dry soil. Water-borne stains should come off easily, but oily stains might be difficult to melt from a spark.

Rayon is less springy than wool, resists soil better than cotton and gives good service if the pile is compact and made for carpet.

Wool is durable, springy, resilient and warm. It resists soil and is easy to clean. Some wool is mothproofed.

Do Something?

"Know anyone who is apt to remark 'I have half a mind to do something about that?' And how much does that person accomplish? It is for certain practically nothing. And yet there is so very much to be done. Everyone interested in doing something is needed." —Crystal Lake Herald.

There are 35 million fishermen in America, and still the Russians are able to out-kill us. —The News-Outline, Owingsville, Ky.

"Well, the President now tells us no immediate tax cut is needed to stimulate the economy. It seems as though the boys down in Washington never consider a tax cut unless they feel something is needed to stimulate the economy. . . . Tax cut to stimulate the economy? . . . Tax cut to head off a recession? . . . Tax cut to get out of a recession? Nuts! How about a tax cut just because government has gotten into the habit of spending too doggone much money?" —Mound, Minn., Minnetonka Pilot.

Abbot's Invests in Vels Supply Firm

DES MOINES, Nov. 7.—Abbott Laboratories, North Chicago, Ill., has invested $1,050,000 in Diamond Laboratories, Des Moines, completing an agreement arising from negotiations during the last several months.

Certain veterinary products formerly marketed by Abbott were transferred to Diamond for distribution under the Diamond label. The two companies will jointly research and develop new products for the veterinary market.

COMING EVENT

At a date yet to be set in January of 1963, the Public Relations Committee of the Lake County Safety Commission will hold a Safety Award luncheon.

This award program will be in two divisions, Industrial and Civic. The Industrial award will be presented to the industries in Lake County that have been active in safety. The Civic award will be presented to the civic group and business group that has promoted traffic safety in 1962.

For further information call the Safety Commission office at EMpire 2-0470.

EXAMPLE

"Man is an imitative being, and is influenced in large degree by his fellows and his environment. The child begins early to imitate his parents and a little later imitates his associates. He does what he sees others doing."

"The influence of a bad example can never be estimated and many are held back and fettered because they have imitated unworthy thoughts or deeds. If men and women realized the degree in which their example affects those they contact they would be more careful."

"The influence of a good example stirs up emotions that correspond, and brings out qualities that were dormant before. Potentially, every individual embodies all qualities but they must be developed, and good example plays a great part in bringing out desirable qualities."

"Life's raw material is energy, capable of being used for good or for evil—to build or destroy. The greatest incentive to use energy fruitfully is good example set by strong, superior men and women."

"Be careful of the example you set. Realize that your thought and deeds not only react on yourself but on every one you meet. Estimate its value by the inspiration you receive from worthy men and women, and realize that you are also a radiating center of energy that is constantly influencing others, and see that your example is good."—Riverside Pointer.

Employer: "For a man with no experience, you certainly are asking for a high wage."

Applicant: "Well sir, the work's so much harder when you don't know what you are doing."—The Times - Echo, Eureka Springs, Ark.

Roaches Aid Heart Study

Some of the world's most pampered cockroaches are serving medical science.

They live in sterile tubes, dine on a rigidly controlled diet, and grow to an imposing size.

The roaches receive this favored treatment from research investigators supported by Heart Associations and local heart councils, because they cannot manufacture cholesterol. Cholesterol is a major suspect as a factor causing heart disease, our foremost health problem.

Humans make cholesterol. It is found in all the tissues of the body. It seems, in fact, to serve as a sort of building block in the structure of the cells.

Cholesterol seems to have a similar role in insects. It is in all of their tissues, but because they cannot make it they fall to grow unless it is given to them in their food.

Work on the cholesterol requirement of insects was begun several years ago. It was found that all but one-twentieth of the cholesterol which an insect normally requires in its food could be replaced by a number of related but slightly different substances which they called "sparing sterols."

Investigators believe this means the cholesterol normally plays at least two roles in the architecture of the cells. It is as if the sterol "building blocks" may be of two kinds: one must be of a very special size and shape (cholesterol itself) while the other may be varied considerably.

Radioactive tracers and a battery of modern chemical techniques will be used to study the functions which cholesterol performs in the cells in the heart association project.

This new information is being used as a starting point for an analysis of the functions of cholesterol, which should be much more detailed than any which has previously been possible. It may one day shed new light on what goes wrong in the cells of heart disease sufferers.

ALL ABOUT BABIES

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

12 TO 15 MONTHS

By Erno W. Macready, R.N. Baby Care Counselor Pensacola, Fla.

Baby, between twelve and fifteen months of age, doesn't seem to be a baby any more. From a tiny helpless infant, baby has become a sturdy and agile little person with a mind of his own.

Many mothers, at this time, become conscious of baby's need for less changes. Baby now usually is able to stay dry for as long as two hours at a time. As a result, mothers often develop a false sense of security about the threat of diaper rash. If baby doesn't wet so often, they reason, there no longer is any need for concern.

This fallacy is the subject of this sixth in a series of guest columns by baby care counselors on maintaining good diaper hygiene during baby's entire diaper wearing age.

It is a mistake to think that diaper rash occurs only during baby's early months. Babies can get diaper rash as long as they wear diapers. For that matter, the most distressing and dangerous cases of diaper rash tend to be among older babies. This was found to be so in a study reported in the Journal of Diseases of Children published by the American Medical Association. The study showed that the most serious cases of diaper rash did not occur in infants but in children over one year of age.

The possibility of diaper rash remains as long as diapers are worn. It is therefore important that the fastidious diapering routine followed when baby was young be continued. Baby should be changed promptly with correctly processed diapers. Even throughout the toilet training period when training pants are worn by day and diapers for naps and at night, diapers should be processed just as carefully as in previous months. The six steps in the proper processing of diapers at home are explained in a free booklet, "A Mother's Guide to Diaper Hygiene." Write, the National Baby Care Council, 1913 Walnut Street, Philadelphia 3, Pa.

Here is another hint for the comfort of a growing baby. Make sure the diaper is not too small nor pinned too tightly. Nothing upsets baby more quickly than restricted motion. Your diaper service counselor can tell you what size diapers to order and give you hints on pinning them for greater baby comfort.

It's getting so you need more brains to make out the income tax form than to make the income.

Falcon Basketball Hopes Slim For '62-'63 Season

Shoot For 500 Mark

Dorm Grams, basketball coach at Salem high school, is looking towards his lowest and leanest season since he took the reins in 1957. Last year's squad finished the season with a 20-1 record and reached the Regional Championship finals before losing to Beloit.

Gone from last year's team are Capt. Dan Yates, all league and all state forward. Yates accounted for 498 points last season and is now on a basketball scholarship at Wisconsin University.

John Zelton, all league selection and a sparkplug of the squad, John scored 346 points and is on a basketball grant to St. Norbert's College.

Six foot five inch center and top rebounder Darrell Pofahl is on a grant at DePaul University. Pofahl scored 170 points during Salem's drive to the championship.

Glen Schulz, outstanding playmaker and defensive specialist accounted for 116 points and will be sorely missed this year.

Others lost to graduation are Jim Hofer, John Lentz, George Rodis and Ralph Remus. Accounting for 204 points last year Coach Grams will be hard pressed to replace these boys.

"Team speed will be a big problem along with a lack of scoring punch," Grams said. "Out of a season (total of 1461 points), Grams added, 1334 have been lost by graduation. We'll be doing well to better the 500 mark."

In looking over the Southeastern Conference, Grams picks Waterford to add the basketball laurels to their 1962 football title. "Led by giant center Dick Kempken and 6'4" forward Duffenhorst, the Wolverines will outsize any squad in the league."

Clinton and Union Grove should provide most of the opposition, Grams said. Salem, St. Mary's and Williams Bay figure to finish in the middle of the pack with Norris and Palmyra battling it out for the basement.

Grams will be counting heavily on captain Bob

Dougherty. Dougherty scored 60 points last season from his position at reserve forward and along with Bob Hofer are the only Central players who saw much action.

Sequoits Ready For Friday Night's Opener

Coach Roger Andrews announced a tentative starting lineup this week for Friday night's opener against the McHenry Warriors.

"The boys are still a little spotty," Andrews said. "They look real good one minute and not so good the next. They are coming along fast, however, and should be ready for Friday's game," he added.

The tentative lineup places 6'3" Doug Lang at center, John Halliwell and Bob Kubicki at the forwards, and Jim Brownlee and Al Grulid at the two guard posts.

Andrews listed John Lear, 5'8" Junior as an alternate at guard. Other boys who will see a lot of action in the openers are Ed Matejka and Jeff Gates, both juniors.

"We won't have a chance to look at McHenry before Friday night," Andrews said, "but they always have a good team and will be led again this year by Fred Kuch, 6'7" center. This will be the third year as a regular for Kuch."

495 Marksmen At NICC Shoot

By Harry H. Stern

That loud barrage of gunfire coming from Antioch way Sunday was not an attack by invaders from Mars, nor was it the South rising up again. Northern Illinois Conservation Club was playing host to 495 shooters at their first annual turkey shoot. Cool, cloudy weather and a fair breeze made it an ideal day for the business at hand, which was to win and cart home 114 plump young turkeys, ducks and Cornish hens.

So eager were the gunners to shoot, there was a waiting line all day and firing continued until it was too dark to see the targets. It was a happy day for wildlife too, as the hunters concentrated on the "wild clay birds" instead.

In addition to Antioch, Grayslake, Ingleside, Lake Villa, Lindenhurst, Spring Grove, Wadsworth, Wildwood, Ivanhoe, Mundelein, McHenry, Deerfield, Highland, Gages Lake, Wondar Lake, Morton Grove, Mt. Prospect, Roselle, Broadview and Wilmet sent their nimble to compete in this classy event, and all went home happy because there were one or more winners from every one of these communities. The parting words of the shooters were: Have another just like this one, real soon.

Some of the local winners were: from Antioch: Ralph Gressens, Ken Pedersen, Jerry Donovan, Tiny Helgesen, Robert Heywood, Wm. E. Brook, Dennis Matteoni, Wayne Dyer, Fred Dittmer, Sr., Fred Dittmer, Jr., Fred Faust, James Field, James Alshouse, Bud Reidel, George Sterbenz, Dennis Heimbrodt, Gerald Dittmer, James Keegan, R. Anzinger, A. Stowe, Jack Wells, Jr.

Winners from Lake Villa were R. Golden, Chuck Madson, J. Golden, Bert Metz, Earl Bartley and Coulombe. From Wilmet, one lone winner, Rod Winn.

Fort Sheridan Marks Seventy-Five Years

FORT SHERIDAN, Ill.—This week, on Nov. 6, Fort Sheridan, "the biggest little post in the U. S. Army," celebrated its 75th anniversary.

During the 75 years which saw the old fort expand from horses to missiles, the mission of Fort Sheridan has developed largely into one of furnishing logistical and administrative support to outlying units.

With World War II the post undertook one of its biggest jobs—the operation of one of the nation's biggest reception centers. About half a million soldiers entered the Army from late 1940 to 1943 through the Sheridan reception center. After the war the installation became a separation center, demobilizing about 500,000 men and women.

Nike Missile Sites

Today, on the post itself, the headquarters of Fifth Region, Army Air Defense Command, operates a far-flung network of Nike missile sites. Region extends its activities over all or part of 14 states, also providing air defense for Chicago-Gary, Milwaukee, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Detroit, Cincinnati, St. Louis and all the industrial complexes and air bases in those areas.

Fort Sheridan provides logistical support for the supporting units of these Nike sites including Military Police units in Milwaukee and Minneapolis; Ordnance units in Minneapolis and at Kincheloe Air Base, Mich.; Engineer Detachments at Milwaukee and at New Brighton, Minn. As well, Sheridan supports the Signal Missile Master Maintenance Support Detachments at Arlington Heights, Ill., and at Minneapolis; the Army dispensaries at Arlington Heights and Milwaukee; the Disciplinary Barracks at Milwaukee and the Special Weapons Support Teams at Orland Park, Ill., Milwaukee and New Brighton.

Size of the Post

In spite of the vast area directly or indirectly covered by Ft. Sheridan, it is still the Army's smallest installation in square miles. Within its 728 acres are units and activities which provide a wide variety of administrative and logistical support for Fifth Region and also Headquarters, Fifth U. S. Army, Chicago. Fort Sheridan is one of several Army posts within a 13-state mid-west area under the jurisdiction of Fifth Army.

The commander of Fifth Army is Lieutenant General John K. Waters and the commander of Fifth Region is Major John T. Honeycutt, both of whom are residents at Fort Sheridan.

Post History

The post was founded in 1887 but its historical background goes back to the 1871 Great Chicago Fire. Following that fatal tragedy, Chicago police could not control the lawless element. Chicago's mayor requested federal aid, but no troops were nearby. On the third day after the fire, troops from Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas, arrived to help restore order.

Following the 1876 "Haymarket Riot," leading Chicago citizens asked the federal government for a military post near the city to provide protection in emergencies.

Congress accepted a tract of 632 acres, donated for the token payment of ten dollars in March, 1887. First troops, two companies of the 6th Infantry Regiment, arrived in command of Major William Lyster, Fort Sheridan's first commanding officer.

A War Department general order in 1888 officially named the installation Fort Sheridan in honor of General Phillip Sheridan, Civil War hero and Indian fighter. The following year, Congress appropriated $300,000 for the first permanent buildings.

In 1894 Fort Sheridan men were called upon to quell disturbances during the Pullman strike.

Activity shifted into high gear in 1898 when regular army troops were sent to Cuba. The post became a rallying point for Illinois and Wisconsin volunteer regiments, and training center for medical units badly needed in fever-ridden Cuba. Many units trained at the Illinois base went to the Philippine Islands and China.

After the Spanish-American War, the post settled down to peacetime garrison life until troubles developed on the Mexican border. During the punitive expedition against Pancho Villa in 1910, Fort Sheridan's garrison was stripped to 16 men.

When the United States entered World War I, Ft. Sheridan became the site of a "Plattsburg Plan" officers' training camp. Five thousand officers were commissioned in two three-month sessions. In 1918 and in 1919 the post became a huge hospital site, caring for 60,000 sick and wounded.

Between World Wars I and II, Ft. Sheridan continued to be a training center. Anti-aircraft artillermen joined infantry, cavalry, and field artillery soldiers at the installation. The AAA gunners used the wide expanse of Lake Michigan as their target ranges.

AAA units and various service troops trained at the center throughout the war and the post-war period. During the Korean War, Ft. Sheridan again became a major reception center for enlistees, inductees and reservists.

Today, Ft. Sheridan is under the command of Colonel Benjamin C. Chapla, a veteran of more than 20 years of service. The 1930 graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point is Sheridan's 98th Post Commander.

Christmas Seals In Mail Soon

The traditional annual Christmas Seal Campaign opened November 13 with the mailing of Christmas Seals to Lake County residents.

"Eighty-five thousand dollars is the goal of the Lake County Tuberculosis Association as it formulates plans for the 1962 Christmas Seal Campaign," said Dr. Anna E. Barnstable, Christmas Seal sale chairman.

"Over nine million lives have been saved since the first Christmas Seal was sold, but the saving of lives is not enough," declared Dr. Barnstable. "We must see to it that every family is spared the suffering and tragedy of TB."

"Proceeds from this year's Christmas Seal Campaign must do more than maintain our present activities against TB. We must expand our effort to find all the unknown cases of TB lurking in this community; increase our efforts to help ex-TB patients get back on their feet and stay there; extend our educational program so that people of all ages learn how to protect themselves from TB. We must also put more money into medical research to find better ways of fighting TB," Dr. Barnstable added.

There is no house-to-house solicitation; the entire campaign is conducted by mail.

Lindenhurst News

By Mrs. Bernice Bernau

Lindenhurst Women's Club

The Women's Club meeting had the largest attendance in its history last Thursday night when 46 ladies attended. Twenty of the ladies were guests.

Joseph Hills of Reed Hills Florist in Grayslake demonstrated how to make corsages and how to wear them. He invited the ladies to attend the shop's open house on Dec. 2.

Nomination of officers was held with Peggy Panzer and Dorothy Verdieck running for president. Mary Jean Ploss and Nancy Kleffner for vice-president. Dorothy Thompson and Esther LaChance for treasurer. Torri Kasperki and Millie Caldwell for secretary. Peggy Karry and Johnny Volpentesta for sergeant-at-arms. To serve on the executive board, Carol Bogda, Bert Harece, Zenia Neumann, Bernice Frontzak, Jennie Volpentesta and Erlene Pearce. Election will be held at the December meeting. There will be a pot-luck supper.

The meeting will start at 7 p.m. that night.

The ladies voted to March on Polo in January again.

The Christmas party for children of members only will be held Dec. 20. A puppet show will be presented and refreshments will be served, with each child receiving a gift from Santa Claus. It will start at 7 p.m.

Lindenhurst Junior Police

Fred Beller, member of the Lindenhurst Police and former Chief, spoke to the boys about guns and the safety of firearms at their meeting last Monday evening. Several of the boys were permitted to shoot a .38 pistol.

At the Nov. 19 meeting, Joe Hoffelt, a Venetian Village business man will show the boys how to shoot a bow and arrow.

Ronnie Coles and John Selzer have charge of the Junior Police.

New Baby

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bertil (Clara) Langager of 109 S. Lindenhurst Dr. on the birth of their fourth child, Patricia Annette weighed 7 pounds 13 ounces when she was born Nov. 5 at Victory Memorial Hospital.

Lindenhurst Garden Club

The Lindenhurst Garden Club mailed a check for $50 to the Men's Club for landscaping of the Civic Center. The Garden Club has donated several trees, bushes and plants to the Hooper School and have kept the Linden Plaza looking nice all summer.

Lindenhurst Citizen's Party
The Lindenhurst Citizen's party will meet Friday, Nov. 16, at the Civic Center at 8 p.m. January 5 is the date set for voting on the Sewerage System.

Ivy Cancer League Meeting
Ivy Cancer League will meet at the home of Mrs. Zenia Neumann at 8 p.m. Nov. 15.

Accident

Never a dull moment in the Bob Smith home. While doing some painting, Bob turned off the hot water heater Wednesday. On Thursday morning Dorothy tried to light it, but didn't have much success. After a while the gas built up and with the stroke of a match, the flames puffed out and burned Dorothy quite painfully on the right hand. Not knowing what to do first, she called John Mateja, her neighbor on Longmeadow Dr., to see if he would drive her to the hospital. As luck would have it, John was in St. Therese Hospital having minor surgery, himself. His wife, Wally, drove her to the hospital where she received medical care Dorothy said it's a good thing she is left handed.

Hospital Patient

Mrs. Mina Claessens of 107 N. Hawthorne Dr. had surgery last Thursday. She is in Victory Memorial Hospital, in room 283 if you would like to send her a card. She will be there for several days.

Dance

Don't forget about the Lindenhurst Policemen's dance Saturday night at the Civic Center. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Teenage Club

The Lindenhurst Teen Club held their first meeting of the season at the Civic Center Friday evening. Mr. Hank Fish helped the group to get organized. Twenty-eight eighth-grade and high school students were present. Leonard Clark was elected president; Nicky Nixon, vice president; Ronnie Biaggi, secretary; and Linda Matthes, treasurer.

Serving on the entertainment committee are Carol LaBarbera, Cathy Mertes and Bonnie Krakowski.

Jerry Brassfield, Virginia Clark and Cathy Clark are on the refreshment committee.

Mr. Hank Pearce, representing the Lindenhurst Men's Club, which is sponsoring the Club, also was in attendance, offering suggestions. Since this is a young people's club, it has been decided to let them make their own rules and decide what they want to do. There will always be adult supervision, though. And there are rules for the Civic Center, that must be complied with.

Meetings or get-togethers will probably be held every Friday night at the center after this week. The next meeting will be Nov. 23, from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

They will be making up a basket for a needy family for Christmas. If you know of someone, let one of the officers know.

There will be a hayride Friday evening, Nov. 16. Boys and girls are asked to meet at the Circle D Ranch on Grand Avenue at 7 p.m. Refreshments will be served around a camp-fire. There will be adult chaperones and transportation home will be provided.

Prince of Peace School

In observance of Catholic Education Week, parents were invited to attend "Open House" at Prince of Peace School Tuesday and Wednesday, while classes were in session. The school's theme for this year is "Our Light in Life."

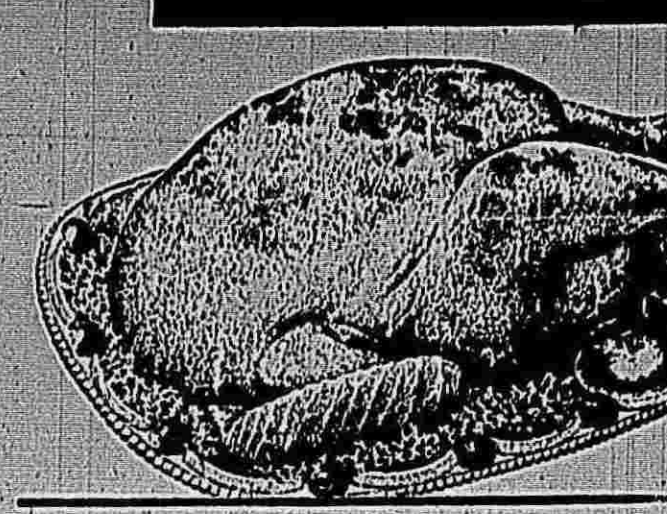

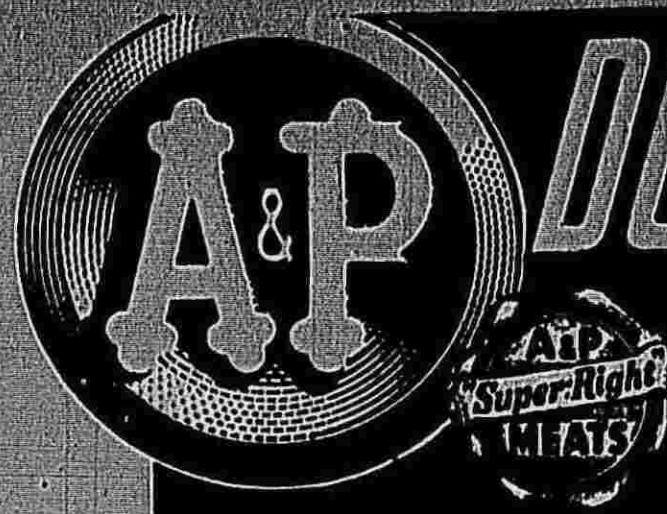

October 31 was given over to having a Halloween party at the school.

On Nov. 21, Mother Mary Assumpta PCJ of Provincial Superior of the Congregation who resides at Our Lady of Bethlehem, Columbus, Ohio, will visit Prince of Peace School. She is the Supervisor of Congregation of the Poor Child of Jesus, who have been staffing the school since it was first built in 1957.

Prince of Peace Notes

Clothes, bedding and shoes for the Bishop's Thanksgiving Collection may be left at the garage at the west end of the Prince of Peace parking lot, starting Nov. 18 through Nov. 25.

Cadet Eberman Gets Sea Duty

Cadet Elmer E. Eberman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Eberman, Sr., of Rt. 3, Box 332, Antioch, was recently assigned to the S.S. President Roosevelt, a modern passenger vessel operated by American President Lines, and engaged in the Far Eastern trade, as part of his second year of training at the United Merchant Marine Academy, Kings Point, New York.

His year at sea is a regular part of the four year course offered at the Academy to train qualified officers for the ships of our Merchant Marine. This year of sea duty is unique for it not only gives the Cadet an opportunity to gain a first-hand knowledge of the ships which he will later command, but also enrolls the Cadet as an ambassador of good will in ports of call throughout the world.

While assigned to this vessel he will visit Yokohama, Kobe, Hong Kong, Manila, and Honolulu.

Upon returning to the Academy next fall, he will pursue a rigorous academic schedule encompassing such subjects as International Law, Maritime Law, World History, Naval Architecture, Marine Transportation, Naval Science, and Physics, as well as extensive military training necessary for a successful career at sea.

Upon graduation in July of 1964, Cadet Eberman will be licensed by the United States Coast Guard as a Third Officer in the Merchant Marine, receive a Bachelor of Science Degree, and be commissioned as an Ensign in the United States Naval Reserve.

PACK 300

The October Pack Meeting of Pack 300 was held on October 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the basement of the St. Peter's church. The opening ceremony was conducted by the Webelos Den, which is a new den and did very well. Because Cubmaster John Eckert had to work, the meeting was conducted by Assistant Cubmaster Leo Bogarts.

Three new Bobcats were inducted. They are Jim Riezinger, Russell Damske and Mark Gilday.

Other awards given out were Denner stripes to Raymond Frank and Thomas Mueller. Assistant Denner stripes were given to Patrick Zeien and Kenneth Knackstedt.

Den Four gave a skit on the ghosts and goblins of Sleepy Hollow. Den 5 gave a skit on what a Scoutmaster should not do on a hike.

A small Halloween party was held afterwards with refreshments furnished by the mothers of Den 1.

Den 1 in Oakwood Knolls now has a new Den Mother. Her name is Mrs. Mary Riezinger and we wish to welcome her into our pack. We still need a Den Mother for the Grass Lake Area. There are twice as many boys in this Den as there should be and more are waiting to join. It is impossible for a den mother to handle more than eight boys properly. We will not say there is no work involved. There is a little! But the thanks from the boys more than makes up for any work put out by the Den Mother. The Pack will be having a Bake Sale at the Lyons-Ryan Ford Garage on Saturday, December 8, from 9 a.m. until all is sold.

Our next Pack meeting will be November 29 at 7:30 p.m. sharp. Don't be late. We will not wait!

Tollway Revenue For October '62

HINSDALE—Preliminary traffic revenue of the Illinois Tollway for October of this year was $2,299,242 as compared to $2,056,814 for the same month a year ago, an increase of $242,428 or 11.8%. It was announced by A. H. Knauerhaze, executive director of the Illinois State Toll Highway Commission.

Average daily toll revenue for October 1962 was $74,169 as compared to $66,349 for the same month a year ago. Average daily toll revenue for the first ten months of 1962 was $75,825 as compared to $66,305 for the same period in 1961.

Drop in Public Aid in Sept.

Springfield, Nov. 9—Public Assistance in Illinois fell another 8,100 persons in September, the sixth month of successive declines, Harold O. Swank, executive secretary of the Illinois Public Aid Commission reported today.

Although the trend is usually downward during the March-September period, the decrease this year has been considerably larger than it has been for several years. In the past six months, the over-all loads have dropped nearly 40,000 persons, or 8.5 per cent. For comparable months in 1960 and 1961 the percentage declines were 5.3 and 2.3 respectively.

According to Swank, the September public aid load numbered 429,444 recipients as compared with 437,525 in August and 424,203 in September 1961.

In Lake County, the September total of the number of persons receiving aid was 2,195, receiving a total of $109,958.

Ideas are like children, your own are wonderful.

Speaks For Heart Council

Dr. J. Scott Butterworth, noted heart authority, will be the featured speaker at the Sixth Annual Boyd Lecture. The Lecture is sponsored jointly by the Heart Council

8 Dead In October

The Lake County count-down of traffic deaths in October is 8, compared to 9 for the same month last year. For the year to date, it is 57 in 1962 compared to 77 in 1961, according to the Lake County Safety Commission.
